☰ About Us

When people and businesses can work together for a common good, beautiful things can happen. That's why we created USave, an app designed to encourage people to be more environmentally conscious and reward them for their eco-friendly deeds.

USave the planet, USave money.

USave implements a platform that allows users to gain points by behaving in a more sustainable way.
For example, one can gain points by taking public transportation, using less household energy, or recycling old clothing. We encourage everyone to make an impact, large or small, which is why we integrated numerous point-earning actions of various scale into our program.
Everyone can participate because everyone can take some small action.
By partnering with responsible businesses and organizations that share values geared toward improving the environment, USave is able to offer users valuable rewards in exchange for
